Cynthia J. Arnson is director of the Latin American Program at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars.

Carlos Basombrío is a sociologist and consultant for Capital Humano y Social, SA. He also served as Peruvian vice minister of the interior.

Fernando Cepeda Ulloa is a political scientist and diplomat who has served as Colombian Ambassador to the UK, Canada, and France, as well as permanent representative to the UN and OAS.

Gino Costa is the president of the Lima-based public policy group Ciudad Nuestra. He served as minister of the interior of Peru during the presidency of Alejandro Toledo.

George Gray Molina is chief economist and head of the Regional Human Development and MDGs practice for the UNDP Latin America and the Caribbean Regional Bureau.

Peter Hakim is president emeritus of the Inter-American Dialogue.

Alejandro Hope Pinson is director of the “Less Crime, Less Punishment” security project, a joint initiative of México Evalua and the Mexican Institute for Competitiveness (IMCO) and previously worked at the Mexican intelligence agency CISEN.

Daniel Kurtz-Phelan is member of the policy planning staff for the U.S. Department of State and former associate editor for Foreign Affairs magazine.

César Montúfar is member for the national assembly of Ecuador and professor at the Universidad Andina Simon Bolivar.

Margaret Myers is director of the China and Latin America program for the Inter-American Dialogue.

Marta Lucia Ramírez de Rincón is a private consultant in international strategy and defense matters and served as Colombia’s minister of defense, minister of foreign trade and ambassador to France. She has also served as a senator and was a presidential candidate in May 2010.

Antonio Navarro Wolff is former government secretary of Bogotá. He also formerly served as governor of the department of Nariño in Colombia and senator for the Polo Democrático Alternativo.

Rafael Nieto is a lawyer and political analyst, as well as a former vice minister of justice in Colombia.
Victor Rico Frontaura is director of corporate and special affairs and institutional development at CAF-Development Bank of Latin America and previous served as secretary of political affairs at the Organization of American States.

Andrés Rozental is a non-resident senior fellow of the Brookings Institution. He served as deputy foreign minister of Mexico and ambassador to the United Kingdom, Sweden, and permanent representative to the United Nations.

Andrés Rugeles is corporate secretary of CAF – Development Bank of Latin America.

Ana María Sanjuán is a senior consultant on democracy, the state, and citizen security at CAF – Development Bank of Latin America. She is also a professor at the Universidad Central de Venezuela.

Mark Schneider is Senior Vice President and Special Adviser on Latin America of the International Crisis Group.

Michael Shifter is president of the Inter-American Dialogue.

Alberto Vergara received his Ph.D. in Political Science from the Université de Montréal. In September, He will begin post-doctoral research at the Weatherhead Center for International Affairs at Harvard University.

José Miguel Vivanco is the executive director of Human Rights Watch – Americas in Washington, DC.

Ricardo Zuniga is senior director for Western Hemisphere Affairs at the National Security Council and former head of the political section at the US embassy in Brazil and coordinator of Cuban Affairs for the State Department.